

Early Foundations Curriculum

Copyright Foundations Publishing, LLC 2005

Illustrated by Jean E. vanson

Contact: info@kidsfaith.org

www.kidsfaith.org

Adam and Eve

Parent/child weekly study

The first people God made were Adam and Eve. How did God make Adam?

What do you think their garden looked like?

Every day God walked with Adam and Eve in the garden. What do you think they talked about?

What animal do you think they loved best?

Verse for The Bible

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the Earth.

Genesis 1:1

God was very happy.

He had a very busy week creating all the stars and planets,

the oceans and land, the every animal on earth.

“It is good,” he said. He was very pleased.

God gave Adam and Eve a special garden to live in with animals to take care of and plants to eat.

Finally, God was done creating this world, and he was very, very pleased.

He watched the ocean waves go swish, swish on the beach.

He heard the wind say shhhh, shhhh through the tall trees.

He watched the sun set across the desert sand, and he felt the soft grass that covered the pastureland.

“I’ll call you Adam,” said God as Adam stood up and smiled at him.

“But you need a friend, someone to keep you company,” said God.

So he went right to work making a friend for Adam.

Her name was Eve.

God was very pleased.

Then he heard an eagle cry caw, caw across the mountain sky.

He saw the zebras' hooves pound pah pah as they ran by.

He smiled when the chipmunk chirped her babies to sleep; it was all so beautiful from the stars above to the ocean deep.

But there was one more thing for God to create and the very next day he got to work.

He gathered up a handful of dirt and blew a breath of life into it.

Hands, feet, a body and face appeared, lovely eyes and beautiful hair took shape.

God had created a man, and he was very pleased.

